

A FOOLISH KING IN ISRAEL

Introduction: Gideon's refusal to rule Israel as king (8:23) became the dominating desire of his son, Abimelech (9:6). After Gideon died, Israel forgot the LORD's goodness to them during Gideon's leadership and began to worship Baal again (8:33-35). The LORD allowed Abimelech to become a king for a few years during this time of apostasy. He was the son of Gideon by a concubine. Relying on his personal contacts from his mother's side of the family, political intrigue, and mass murder, Abimelech became a king. However, he apparently only ruled over Shechem and its environs. His attempt to rule Israel was aborted by his sudden death at the hands of a woman. His death allowed judges to continue to govern the affairs of Israel. Abimelech was followed by two obscure judges. The LORD used Tola and Jair to bring peace to Israel after the turmoil caused by Abimelech. They may have judged in different parts of Israel at the same time (10:1-5).

Lesson Aim: To stay away from the foolishness of pride and avoid the certainty of destruction.

Memory Verse: "Pride goes before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall" (Prov16:18).
